The law library began receiving these in 1952. These are the equivalent of our session laws. They are compiled every year; before that they are available in slip law form. Access is through the Index to the Statutes in Force. The Public General Statutes and The Public General Acts (KD124 .P82), published by the Incorporated Council of Law Reporting, contain acts passed between 1866 and 1951 (both sets are marked Law Reports: Statutes on the spine).

The official publication Statutes in Force (1972-) (KD132.S72 and Microforms Room) contains all acts from 1235 to the 1990's still in force in subject order along with their amendments. There is an index for each subject as well as a general index. Each volume has a table of statutes and an index.

Halsbury's Statutes of England and Wales (4th ed., 1985-) (KD135 .H3 4th) contains amended texts of statutes in force with annotations. The earliest statute listed in the chronological table is the Statute of Marlborough (1267).

IV. CASES

A. The Earliest Cases

Bracton's Note Book: A Collection of Cases Decided in the King's Courts During the Reign of Henry the Third (F.W. Maitland, ed., 1983 reprint of 1887 ed.) (KD190 1217 .B72 and HeinOnline's Legal Classics Library) includes about 2,000 cases from the years 1217-1240.

The Earliest English Law Reports. (Publications of the Selden Society; v. 111-112) (Paul A. Brand, ed., 1996) (KD456.S4 v.111,112) contains 142 Common Bench cases prior to 1290.

Placita Anglo-Normannica: Law Cases from William I to Richard I Preserved in Historical Records (Melville Madison Bigelow, ed.,1879) (KD270 1066 .B55 1879 and HeinOnline's Legal Classics Library) contains cases from 1066 to 1195 in Latin with English notes.

B. Year Books

The Year Books contain reports of English cases from 1270 to 1535. They are mostly in French; modern reprint sets include English translations along with the original text.

Older Editions

The "standard" (or "Vulgate" or "Maynard") edition, printed by George Sawbridge, William Rawlins and Samuel Roycroft in 1679-80, reprinted the medieval yearbooks in 11 tall folio volumes. Available in Early English Books Online (<http://library.duke.edu/metasearch/db/id/DUK01055>).

Modern Collections

The Selden Society Year Books Series (KD456.S4) began in 1903 as volume 17 of Publications of the Selden Society with Year Books of 1 and 2 Edward II (F.W. Maitland, ed.). The most recent volumes are

Reports of Cases from the Time of King Henry VIII (J.H. Baker, ed., 2003) (Publications of the Selden Society; v. 120-122 /Year Books Series).

The Ames Foundation has been publishing Year Books since 1914 (KD194). The most recent is Year Books of Richard II: 6 Richard II, 1382-1383 (1996).

Roll Series (part of Rerum Britannicarum Medii Aevi Scriptores, Or, Chronicles and Memorials of Great Britain and Ireland During the Middle Ages) (1858-1911) (Perkins DA25 .B5) includes 20 volumes of Year Books from Edward I and Edward III published between 1863-1911.

Other collections of cases from the Year Books and early nominate reports include J.H. Baker & S.F.C. Milsom, Sources of English Legal History: Private Law to 1750 (1986) (KD720.S68 1986) and A.K.R. Kiralfy, A Source Book of English Law (1957) (KD532 .K47 1957).

Seipp, David J., Year Books: Medieval English Legal History (or Seipp's Abridgement) (<http://www.bu.edu/law/seipp>). This searchable database indexes and paraphrases year book reports from 1268 to 1535 and includes helpful information such as lists of manuscript and printed editions and a bibliography of works about the yearbooks.

Statham, Nicholas, Statham's Abridgement of the Law (reprint of 1917 ed., translated by Margaret Center Klingensmith) (KD196 .S73 2007). First printed around 1490, this is the earliest abridgment of cases from manuscripts of the Yearbooks.

Early English Books Online (<http://library.duke.edu/metasearch/db/id/DUK01055>) and Early English Books, 1475-1640 (Perkins Microforms) include many printed Year Book editions before 1700 as well as Ashe's Promptuarie (1614), an index to the Year Books and early nominate reports (Short-Title Catalogue numbers for early Year Books are 9551 through 9967, and for the Vulgate are R1088A through R1088F).

If a case from the Year Books has been re-published, you should provide a parallel cite to the modern reprint series if possible (Bluebook, T.2). Butterworths Legal Research Guide (Ref. KD392 .H64 2001) has a good explanation of citations to Year Book cases.

C. Nominate (or Nominative) Reports

The Law Library has a large collection of nominate reports (KD187 - KD247 and Great Britain Law Reports, pre-1865 (Microforms); Guide to Law Reports and Statutes (Ref. Desk KD54 .S98 1962) provides a complete list. Among the series held by the Library are:

Edmund Plowden, Commentaries [Les commentaires, ou les reports de dyuers cases...] (KD200 .P56 1816) covers cases from 1550-1579. Also available in 75 English Reports [Full Reprint] (KD270 1220 .E53 and HeinOnline).

Cases from 1513-1582 (overlapping some of the later Year Books) are found in Dyer's Report (also called Reports from the Lost Notebooks of Sir James Dyer) (KD200 1541.D94 A33 1994) (J.H. Baker, ed., 1994, 1st ed., 1585) (Publications of the Selden Society; v. 109-110) and Dyer's English King's Bench Reports (John Vaillant, ed., 1794) (KD200.D93 1794). The latter is available in 73 English Reports [Full Reprint]

(KD270 1220.E53 and HeinOnline)

Sir Edward Coke published a series of reports between 1600 and 1615 (posthumous volumes came out in 1655 and 1658) which included cases from 1572-1616 (KD200.C64). Also available in 76-77 English Reports [Full Reprint] (KD270 1220 .E53 and HeinOnline).

Sir James Burrow put out several series of reports; among the most important is Reports of Cases Argued and Adjudged in the Court of King's Bench: During the Time Lord Mansfield Presided in That Court; from Michaelmas Term, 30 Geo. II. 1756, to Easter Term, 12 Geo. III. 1772. Available in 97-98 English Reports [Full Reprint] (KD270 1220 .E53 and HeinOnline).

Charles Durnford and Sir Edward Hyde East published Term Reports of King's Bench cases for the period 1785-1800 (KD200.D87 1817).

To find other reports of cases in the online catalog, use the subject search law reports, digests, etc. – great britain, or try keyword searches; for example, reports and cases and exchequer will find works such as Reports of Cases in the Court of Exchequer in the Time of King Charles I (1625 to 1648) (KD208 1625 .R47 A225).

D. Retrospective Sets

The English Reports [Full Reprint] (1900-1930) (KD270 1220 .E53, HeinOnline, Westlaw (ENG-RPTS) and CommonLII, <http://www.commonlii.org/int/cases/EngR/>) reprints many of the nominate reports published between 1220 and 1865, and is considered the main source for early English cases. The Index will lead you to the case in the English Reports if you have a nominate report citation. The Index Chart Issued for the English Reports (KD270 1220 .E531 and HeinOnline) lists each nominate report (along with its abbreviation) reprinted in the English Reports and indicates the volume where it appears. A chart of abbreviations for the nominate reports is also available at <http://www.justis.com/support/jlinktext-english-reports.html>.

The Revised Reports (Frederick Pollock, ed., 1891-1917) (KD270 1785 .R45) covers 1785-1865. Rather than reprinting the best version of a case, Pollock sometimes combined versions and edited them to get what he thought was the true opinion. While generally duplicative of the English Reports, Revised Reports does include some few additional cases. You should cite cases to English Reports or Revised Reports, with a parallel cite to the nominate reporter (Bluebook, T.2).

The All England Law Reports Reprints (1957-1968) (KD288 .A6) contains approximately 5,000 cases decided from 1558-1935, chosen for their importance. The set includes a table of cases and a subject index. This series is available in LexisNexis (ENGGEN;CASES).

HeinOnline's World Trial Collection (<http://library.duke.edu/metasearch/db/id/DUK00693>) includes trial transcripts and court documents (click on "World Trials" to see the list).

E. Law Reports

Law Reports (1865-) began with 11 series of reports (for a list see Learning the Law (11th ed., 1982) (KD442 .W54 1982)); currently there are four (Appeal Cases (KD275.4 .L38), Queen's Bench Division

(KD277.7 .L38), Chancery Division (KD276.3 .L38) and Family Division (KD279.3 .L38)). If a case is included in the Law Reports, it should be cited there in preference to other sources (Bluebook, T.2). Citations to these series refer only to the series abbreviation, and do not indicate that they are part of the Law Reports (e.g., Harbottle v. Terry, 1882 Q.B.D. 131 is a citation to the Queen's Bench Division series of the Law Reports). Law Reports are available in Lexis (ENGGEN;ICLR) and Westlaw (ALL-RPTS).

Times Law Reports (1884-1952) (KD288 .A5).

Law Times Reports (1843-1947) (1843-1859: Level 4; 1860-1947: KD288 .A34).

Law Journal Reports (1822-1949; the 1822-1831 volumes are known as the Old Series (L.J.O.S.)) (KD288 .A22).

All England Law Reports (1936-) incorporates the Law Journal Reports and the Law Times Reports (KD288 .A64).

Some of these reporters are available in Lexis (ENGGEN;CASES) and Westlaw (UK-RPTS-ALL).

State Trials: Or, A Collection of the Most Interesting Trials, Prior to the Revolution of 1688 (Samuel March Phillipps, ed.) (KD370.P55 S7) covers the years 1554 to 1688.

Blackstone, William, Commentaries on the Laws of England (2002 facsimile of the 1st ed., 1765-1769) (KD353 .B5 2002). Blackstone was the first to lecture on English law at a university; the Commentaries are based on his lectures. An electronic version is available on the Avalon Project website (<http://avalon.law.yale.edu/default.asp>) and HeinOnline’s Legal Classics Library (<http://library.duke.edu/metasearch/db/id/DUK00693>).

Bracton, Henry de, On the Laws and Customs of England (De legibus et consuetudinibus Angliae). Written about 1250, this description of English law followed the format of Justinian’s Institutes. The best modern edition is the translation by Samuel E. Thorne (KD600 .B72 1968 and KD600 .B72 1997 (1997 reprint)). A searchable version created by the Ames Foundation based on George Woodbine's edition of the original and Samuel Thorne’s translation is available at (<http://hls15.law.harvard.edu/bracton/>).

Coke, Edward, Institutes of the Laws of England (1628-1641) is a four part treatise on the common law. The First Part of the Institutes (1628) (KD833.C63 S9 1986 (1986 reprint of 1836 ed.)), Coke’s commentary on Littleton, is also known as Coke on Littleton. Available in HeinOnline’s Legal Classics Library (<http://library.duke.edu/metasearch/db/id/DUK00693>).

Tractatus de legibus et consuetudinibus regni Anglie (Treatise of the Laws and Customs of England). This 12th century treatise on writs and the common law was traditionally attributed to Ranulf de Glanville (modern scholars suggest other authors such as Glanville’s nephew Hubert Walter). A good modern version is G.D.G. Hall’s translation, The Treatise of the Laws and Customs of the Realm of England Commonly Called Glanvill (1965) (KD660.G43 H3 1993).

Littleton’s Tenures (1481). This treatise on English land law is said to be the first printed English law book. Littleton's Tenures in English, edited by Eugene Wambaugh (Washington, D.C., J. Byrne, 1903) is a well known modern edition (KD833 .L57 1903).
